

Newport Biotech Consultants

Volume 2 Issue 6 – June 2009

Just Out: Bioinformatics Report

By K. John Morrow, Jr. President
Newport Biotech Consultants, Inc.

K. John Morrow, Jr. is president of Newport Biotech Consultants and publishes this monthly newsletter.

He is a biotechnology consultant and writer in the field of molecular immunology. He offers his talents in speaking, writing and consulting in molecular immunodiagnosics and related fields.

Cambridge Healthtech Institute is the publisher for a report on bioinformatics that I have just completed. The publishers have allowed me to reproduce the executive summary here, and a publicity brochure describing the report is available in the publications section of my website. Bioinformatics is looming large in basic and medical sciences, and is an increasingly important tool in modeling complex biological systems.

Visit the archives for previous newsletter issues
www.newportbiotech.com

In this issue

Just Out: Bioinformatics
Report.....1
(see attached for report)

We need your feedback!

- Forward it to a friend
- Email us to let us know what you think
- Have an interesting product or concept for a news story?

Email us today at kjohnmorrowjr@insightbb.com

© Copyright 2008-2009 by Newport Biotech Consultants